The centenary of the organization of he Episcopal church in Guilford is to be observed Thanksgiving day.

Rev. W. C. Goodwin has resigned as pastor of the First Presbyterian church in South Londonderry and has accepted a call to Wallingford.

The fern senson closed last week in Jamaica. Charles Cooley of that place has bought and sold about $2,500 worth of ferns since September. Earle L. Buckley, Co. E, 104th infantry, has been cited in France for special bravery in the battle of St. Mihiel. He formerly lived in Townshend. While hunting in Woodford last week, John N. Fay of Bennington shot and killed a female hear and cub. The old bear weighed about 200 pounds and the cub about 80 pounds. Mrs. Luther P. Rixford, whose husband was one of the early settlers of East Highgate, observed the 100th anniversary of her birth in San Francisco recently. Mrs. Rixford is blind, but her mind is still clear and her hearing good.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Bent of Bennington have been notified by the war department of the death of their son, Erwin A. Bent, in action in France Oct. 14. He was a member of the first provisional company of the 162d infantry and met death on the day following his 24th birthday. Before leaving home he was the main support of his parents, who are in failing health.

Mrs. Hirman Horton of North Ben nington has received news of the death in France of her son, Leonard H. Jennings. His star will be the first gold one to appear upon the service flag of Be a Joy-Walker, North Bennington.

The Universalist parish at Bellows Falls celebrated *he 40th anniversary of the first Universalist preaching in that town last Sunday. Rev. S. H. McCol-lester of Marlboro, N. H. the first settester of Marlboro, N. H. the first settled pastor of the Bellows Falls church and under whose administration the present church edifics was built, preached the anniversary was built, preached the anniversary sermon. The first Universalist service in the town was held Oct. 27, 1878, and the celebration was to have been held on the anniversary, but quarantine regulations pre-Vermont's Wheat Production.

War has its little economic triumphs in spite of its wholesale destruction. In the long run, and taking one generation with another, war's economic balance may even reside on the credit side of the ledger instead of on the debit sideif, for example, we consider such things as that the free labor which the Civil war brought in produces easily two bales estate produced one, and that economically the average Frenchman after the Napoleonic wars, in spite of his fabled smaller stature, was certainly more than twice as efficient as his predecessor of the old monarchy. Proceeding to the present war, we are just now presented with the fact that the labor and enterprise of women have outdone the antewar production of men in several fields, setting a mark which men will have to equal or surpass.

to enter, but we may note right here in New England an interesting instance of the way in which war may stimulate or profitably alter production. The state of Vermont, which of late years had raised scarcely a bushel of wheat, going abroad for its bread, began a revival of wheat fulture in the year 1917 under the call of the food administration, and in that year sowed and reaped 3,000 acres of wheat. In 1918, Vermont sowed 15,900 acres, which will produce, at the least account, 300,000 bushels of wheat, capable of making 70,000 barrels of flour, The state will produce more next year, for the price has been guaranteed for 1919; and as the record yield in Grand Isle county of 45 bushels to the acre is resulting in emulation in other counties, would not be surprising to see the Vermont wheat yield pushed up to above 500,000 bushels. It is a cash crop, instantly salable. And in the meantime, we do not observe that there has been any diminution in the Vermont production of hay, oats, milk, butter or any other commodity. If Vermont's example were followed in other New England states, we might see so good and so desirable a thing as our section once more producing its food supply.

Quite apart from the economic aspect of this particular matter, one greatly likes to think of New England as once more a wheat-growing section. As the pleasant old fable tells us, wheat is the "best thing in the world." The farm which produces even a little of it to sell has been doing its duty to the world. The production and full use of this admirable grain is the badge of civilization as well as the delight of agriculture. While it sustains our life, it embellishes our little world. If it is to wave once more upon New England meadoows and hillsides, it will make New England better worth our while to live in.-Boston Transcript.

THE MEN IN CLASS A1

A sound, healthy man is never a back num-ber. A man can be as vigorous and able at seventy as at twenty. Condition, not years, puts you in the discard. A system weakened by overwork and careless living brings old age prematurely. The bodily functions are impaired and unpleasant symptoms appear. The weak spot is generally the kidneya. Keep them clean and in proper working condition, and you will generally find yourself in Class At. Take GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules period-ically and your system will always be in work-ing order. Your spirits will be enlivened, your
